Purpose

Gavilan College offers a wide range of services, including programs of community education, study in the liberal arts and sciences, and study in the pre-professional, business, vocational, that strengthen and augment the learning environment. Courses and programs of study are offered days, evenings, weekends, and online. All offerings are designed to assist students in meeting their educational and life goals.

Currently, more than 11,000 day, evening and online students are enrolled at Gavilan College, and approximately 1,000 degrees Gavilan College have experienced rapid growth in recent years, which has brought both economic and structural change to the region. The district is divided into distinct sub-regions. The northern region (South San Jose and Morgan Hill) is more technical and industrial, and demographically higher income. The southern part of the district, in San Benito County, is largely agricultural. The center of the district, Gilroy, has seen rapid growth in residential construction and a booming retail economy providing large numbers of service jobs. The high price of real estate in the Silicon Valley is also having an impact on the district. As families have looked southward for affordable housing while remaining employed in Santa Clara County, large numbers of district residents commute long distances for work.

Background

A seven-member Board of Trustees governs the Gavilan Joint Community College District. Voters within the district elect each trustee for a four-year term. Board meetings are held monthly and are open to the public. The administrative structure of the college operates under the direction and oversight of the college president, who oversees vice presidents that carry responsibility for administrative, instructional and student services. Deans and directors provide direct oversight for the tasks related to college operations.

Every aspect of the 150-acre Gavilan College main campus in Gilroy has been planned to emphasize the student-centered philosophy adopted by the Board of Trustees and the college staff. The main campus is located south of Gilroy against the hills that form the western boundary of the Santa Clara Valley. Buildings have been designed to complement the natural environment, and constructed to serve the needs and interests of college students and are equipped with the most recently developed aids to enhance teaching and learning.

Many live oaks native to the area have been preserved, and a series of ponds and waterfalls has been developed to emphasize a pleasant, tranquil setting. An arboretum includes placards identifying many of the tree species on campus.
