Summary of Course

This course is designed to increase a student's pedagogical content knowledge for Japanese teaching. The key elements of pedagogy and Japanese content knowledge are examined and developed. Students will critically address how these elements can then be combined into effective classroom practice for addressing the requirements and philosophy of the NSW Japanese syllabuses.

6 UqYX'cb`UghmYUd`gh XYbhZYXVUW`ZH Y following course changes have been made:

If students study two language methods and the languages share a common script, an e-portfolio of teaching resources for Stages 4 and 5 needs to be compiled and submitted as one document at the end of the teaching period.

8. ASSESSMENT

Assessment 2 (3,500 words, weighting 60%)

Prepare an outline for a unit of work for a Stage 5 class. The unit of work should cover the first five lessons; however, you are not preparing full lesson plans.

You must write a rationale for the unit (600-800 words) in which you provide a brief outline of the school and class context state precisely what you want the students to learn and why it is important

You must write a rationale

S1 Assessment 3 Microteaching (including student reflection)

Microteaching is the planning, presentation and evaluation of a lesson over a shortened period of time (a 10 minute mini-lesson). It is a critical aspect of method as it provides students with the opportunity to demonstrate key competencies that must be achieved before student teachers are permitted to undertake Professional Experience 1, at the same time observing other student teachers and engaging in peer review. It is recommended that students read widely on effective classroom strategies and practise aspects of their mini-lesson with a small group of peers prior to assessment.

The assessment process will consist of the following two components:

1. A detailed lesson plan using the prescribed template
