

Hi, welcome to another Museum of Human Disease “Know Your Enemy” video.

An abscess is a collection of pus built up somewhere in the human body. For example, in this specimen you can see a build-up of pus here and here.